FRANCE'S GREAT PULPIT ORATOR.
The greatest living orator in France, and possibly the world, is Father Monsabre, who is preaching at Notre Dame. He leaves his cell once a year for this duty, and his coming in this event of the sacred Lenten season. He fills the Cathedral Sunday after Sunday, and literally thousands fail to gain admittance to the great Cathedral, which furnishes capacity for 20,000 listeners. In his fiery eloquence this Dominican is said to quite eclipse the fame primarily enjoyed by the noted Pere Hyacinthe. Monsabre is about fifty years of age, and in the flower of physical and mental vigor. He prepares his sermons in seclusion, and is said to have one text. "I believe in God," on which he has devoted ten years to study. He is now on the theme, "The Father Almighty," and expresses the hope to be able to live and complete his quadruple creed-homilies in two more texts, namely: "Maker of Heaven and Earth," "And in Jesus Christ, His Only Son, Our Lord." In appearance Monsabre is stout and rather short, and has plump hands, the large mouth of the orator, massive features altogether, with no lines of asceticism in them, but with abundant fire of zeal in the eyes. The black hair is parted at the side, and it is worn neither short nor long. In bearing he is imposing, and in delivery possessing the familiar style ascribed to our American revivalist, Mr. Moody.

OUTDONE BY A BOY.—A lad in Boston, rather small for his years, worked in an office as errand boy for four gentlemen who do business there. One day the gentlemen were chaffing him about being so small, and said to him: "You never will amount to much—you never can do much business; you are too small."

The little fellow looked at them. "Well," said he, "as small as I am, I can do something which none of you four men can do."

"Ah, what is that?" said they. "I don't know as I ought to tell you," he replied.

But they were anxious to know, and urged him to tell what he could do that none of them were able to do.

"I can keep from swearing!" said the little fellow.

There were some blushes on four manly faces, and there seemed to be little anxiety for further information on the point.

Prince Bismarck entered the imperial presence a few days ago with a cloud on his brow. "The new American Minister, Mr. Taylor, is expected in a day or two," he said. Kaiser William looked darkly at the prince and rang for the butler and the steward, who promptly appeared. "Give me the keys of the wine cellar," demanded his majesty. They were given him. "And of the pantry," he continued. They were given up, and his majesty handed them to the Chancellor. "Put them in your pocket," said the Emperor, gloomily. "If this man thinks he can come over here and eat the German empire onto half rations, with a war right at our doors, he is mightily fooled." And the Chancellor laid his finger on the side of his nose, and glancing at a letter from Secretary Evarts, said, "You drink a Dutchman was a geese, hey?"

"What's the time o' day, old omen?" said a colored countryman to Aunt Milly yesterday, trying to poke fun at the brass chain that held the front door key around that young lady's neck. "Look at de town clock, chile. Dat's built for po' folks."

Charles R. Thorne, Jr., about whom a good many conflicting reports have been circulated lately, still holds his position as leading man of the Union Square theatre company, New York, where he will appear next season.

A very modest young lady, who was a passenger on board a packet ship, it is said, sprang out of her bunk and jumped overboard, on hearing the captain, during a storm, order the mate to haul down the sheets.

He gave her a hearty smack. "Don't kiss like that," she said. "I want a sweet, tender pressure when I'm kissed. I don't want any fireworks." He left out the explosion in the next act.

They were disputing as to who had the richest father, and the smaller one finally flew the track and called out: "Well, I've got the best big sister, anyhow!"

"I guess not," replied the other. "Yes, I have."

"I guess not; I've got the bossiest big sister in Detroit. She'll stay home any day to let me wear her shoes to the circus!"

"My sister will do more'n that," put in the little one. "She'll take the string out of her corset for me to spin my top with, and if I lose it she'll stay home from a party and never give me a word of sass. Is your sister any bossier than that?"

The big boy had to take a back seat. —Press Press.

An old gentleman, walking up near a race course, stopped and tapped an interested spectator on the shoulder. "Why this concourse of people, my friend?" he asked. "It is not a concourse, sir; it is a race course," replied the spectator.

"John," said a master to his oldest apprentice, "you must occupy my place while I am absent." "Thank you, sir," replied John, "but I'd rather sleep with the boys."

KEARNEY'S POWER DECLINES.

A very large meeting of the Workingmen was held last Wednesday night at Horticultural Hall, San Francisco. We have read of these meetings and noted with fear the increasing power of Kearneyism. Recently this one-man oligarchy has fallen into bad favor, even with his rabble following. This meeting of night before last was one from which the cause of the Workingmen must make a departure, or adhere to the spirit which has too often manifested itself in their assemblages. About 4,000 men were present, and a large police force was in the hall. A number of speakers addressed the Workingmen, but when Knight, who is hated by the Kearney faction, arose he was greeted with cat-calls, coughs, groans, etc. The police muzzled one of the principal disturbers and hustled him out of the hall. The meeting then proceeded in the most orderly manner until its close. All the speeches were moderate and sensible. Kearney left the hall and addressed some 500 on the outside. But at the close of the indoor session the police broke up Kearney's meeting. The better class of the workingmen now rule, and Dennis Kearney has been forever deposed. The season of greater industrial activity has commenced, the cause of the laboring man has lost much of its fire, and, therefore, all interests surrounding it flags. The grounds for apprehending fire and bloodshed in San Francisco have now little or no foundation, and quiet once more prevails in the metropolis. Opposition to the party in question was its life. A notorious and naturally turbulent spirit sought turbulent expression. It was opposed, and the flames of passion ran high for a time, but the slumbering embers of rank disorder were never given opportunity to exhibit their heated violence. The pessimists and croakers of the old parties, those who saw municipal and local corruption, like a hideous monster with distended nostrils and fiery eyes, with colossal head and tainting breath, stalking through the land with the sole purpose of despoiling its possessions and besmearing its citadels of power, and those who, made, passed upon and enforced our laws with the foul excretions of public thieving, of dishonor, of violation of all respects for self or patriotism for State. These men saw a chance to unspleen themselves and pour upon the head and into the ear of the workingmen much vile abuse of their superiors. Some broken-down politicians saw opportunities for them to scale the pole of position, and from some height which neither God nor man designed for them to occupy, might hang down their putrid heads and "hiss at the noble men below."

The old parties have within their ranks the elements of their own purification. The masses are arousing to the fact that politics must no longer be regarded as dishonorable, and office be shunned, and only thought fit for occupation by political stool pigeons. Our country needs the service of her most honest and competent men, and when these step to the front the cry of corruption will be hushed. To the workingmen much credit is due, but, as we gather from the present status of affairs, the old parties will continue to reap the spoils.

ANOTHER STILL.

The Carson Tribune says: It is reported that our Swedish-American friend, N. Soderberg, protégé of R. M. Clarke, has removed to Reno for the purpose of securing the nomination of District Attorney (on the Republican ticket) of that county, but we can scarcely believe the young man possesses cheek enough to aspire to official position so soon after becoming a citizen.

That is not the point, Parkie. Washoe has become the famous trial county, and M. S. has an eye to the perquisites of court reporter.

Tuesday night the first dispatch passed over the wires of the new telegraph line between Bodie and Carson. Late in the evening the final connection was made and congratulatory messages passed between parties in Bodie and in Bridgeport and Genoa.

COMMUNISM IN AMERICA.

The New York Tribune of the 5th has an editorial on the recent communistic outcroppings, closing thus: We do not believe it can ever be a ruling power in the United States, but it can easily become the tyrant in certain localities, the mining districts of Pennsylvania, the turbulent city of San Francisco, and some other regions, and whenever the flame of insurrection breaks out, we, in New York, can hardly escape an attack. It is well to look at the situation carefully, and consider how we shall meet it, above all how we shall awaken in our children the conservative religious sentiment which animated our fathers.

New York has rather given the other parts of the United States their riotous cue. We know nothing of the mining sections of Pennsylvania, but we apprehend no serious trouble in San Francisco. The evils occasioning labor and other outbreaks have their origin in many sources. All wrong does not lie with the lower classes and the ignorant. The undue protection of capital and the fearfully corrupt status of politics in this country has exerted a baneful influence which is felt throughout the nation. A little purging of the cess pools is necessary, and as in the past, so in the present many must unjustly suffer for the common good, and many knaves in broadcloth and filling office go unpunished. But in this rugged crucible of public and sudden trial, the colored dross of slow reductive accumulation becomes aggregated into its normal blackening mass and is dumped into the residual pots for final rejection. About the religious sentiment which animated our fathers, we cannot reverentially speak. All the honesty which they possessed they received full credit for. The precepts of innate honesty are as strong to-day as ever they were, and if the rising generation are taught intelligently the fundamental principles of honesty and truth, of virtue and manliness, and the plain violation of these principles are promptly and fittingly punished, the government need have no fears but that in every section of our common country the power of the right will at all times prevail.

There is a communistic spirit in many parts of the United States, which, if improperly managed, will at times give the authorities much trouble; but, if the aggressions of such elements in society are promptly suppressed, and every legitimate right and liberty accorded, communism in America is an evil which may never seriously mar the progress and harmony of government regime and institutions.

Sacramento Bee: Senatorial bodies are in bad odor. In the U. S. Senate members get drunk. In New York, State Senators descend to fist fights, and Ohio Senators fight in open session of the Senate. The warrior spirit is developing fast in State Senators, and it may be on the eve of some great war which these Senators have scented afar off. Perhaps Governor Irwin had a deep insight into this matter when he appointed Ned Lewis Generalissimo. California might as well accept Ned as prophetic of a big row and get ready for it. The ruddy colors of war already illumine the General's countenance.

The Idaho Statesman says 35,000 pounds of flour was recently purchased in San Francisco and shipped by way of Kelt to Fort Boise for the use of the troops. Had this flour been given as a present to the government, the cost of transportation alone, which is more than a superior article of flour costs here, should have caused it to be refused. There was evidently some friend to serve in this quarter, for whose benefit this little job was put up.

The Sacramento Bee says: Blair may prove a great benefactor to his country yet by his fraud bill. He certainly will be if he prompts the nation to investigate all the political frauds. It has often been said that the devil himself starts all great reformations, and Blair's success would not prove an exception to the rule.

Eureka Republican: A Virginia city gambler who arrived in Eureka on Saturday night was much shocked to find that the faro games are kept open here on Sunday. The pious man loudly declared on Main street that such a disregard of the teachings of religion "was a—shame, by—!"

Count Schonvaleff has returned to St. Petersburg. Much significance is attached to his return, the extra character of which has not become apparent. It is presumed that he has taken with him England's ultimatum and also has an eye to the premiership as Gortschakoff health is failing.

The Porte's answer about the evacuation of the fortresses has been sent to St. Petersburg. No important change of the situation is likely until a Russian rejoinder is returned.

A Russian coup de main is no longer decided on or believed possible in view of the condition and numbers of the Turkish army.

The Bulgarian forts are still in the possession of England. Ignatieff's scheme for the solution of the late war has quite been done away with. The prospects of war or peace are yet confusing, but one is led to believe that much of the present expectancy has arisen through the speed of innumerable rumors. It is highly probable that diplomacy will yet settle this eastern question.

DOMESTIC.

In Weber and Douval counties, Texas, heinous outrages have been committed. The border line trouble still continues, and action by State and national authorities are called on to suppress these murderous and predatory incursions.

A New York dispatch of yesterday says that carrying coals to Newcastle is outdone by exporting beer to Germany, but several large orders have been received by a firm of brewers of that city, and a member of the firm is going to Germany to increase the trade. Bismarck, to whom several casks were sent, replied that they had been received in splendid condition. We presume that it sells there cheaper than in this country, like American sewing machines in England.

It is rumored that the Evans Rifle company, of Mechanics Falls, Maine, is filling large orders for the Russians on the Cimbria.

The St. Louis jockey club has decided to have a trotting meeting to closely follow the running races next month. A special purse of $500 will be given to Rarus for a heat, and $1000 will be added if he trots in 2:14. The entries close June 14th.

"WHOSE BABY, JIM?"—Carson Tribune: This question was put to a fine looking Indian this morning. Mr. Lo had a bright colored poppoo in his arms (a rather unusual occurrence with native Americans), and he was intently gazing on the facial lineaments of the young stranger. He looked up as only an Indian can look, and answered: "Don't know; just looking to see. My mahala heap likum white fellow; boy too dam white to suit Injun. No matter, some day he grow up make him Gubner, all same Broadhorns. Teach him little—teach him how steal cattle; Gubner don't want know much anyhow;" and then the mahala came along and the young American statesman was flung into her lap. DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Private Medical Institute.
309, KEARNEY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO.
Established in 1854.
For the Permanent Cure of all Special and Chronic Diseases, as also all Female Complaints and Diseases of the Nervous System.

THE IMMENSE DESTRUCTION OF
human life annually from secret and chronic diseases, caused this old and reliable institution to be established, first in Philadelphia, Penn., in 1850, and afterwards in San Francisco, Cal., in 1854, as a private dispensary, in order to afford the afflicted the best medical and surgical treatment, for the above and all other affections and complaints. Consultation at the Institute, or by letter, FREE.

To the Afflicted:
Dr. L. J. Czapka would most respectfully inform the public of the Pacific coast that, at the earnest solicitation of his numerous friends, and hundreds of those unfortunately afflicted with disease, he has reopened his MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE and resumed the practice of his profession.
The Doctor would remind all those who are in need of medical aid, that since relinquishing his very extensive and successful practice in San Francisco, he has visited the principal cities in Europe, inspecting diligently the experience of the most learned in the profession,
the benefit from which he offers to all in need of his services. Rheumatic affections, chronic catarrhs, diseases of the stomach and kidneys, liver complaints, etc., successfully treated.
Those who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, physical and mental debility, are assured of a permanent cure. Charges moderate. All communication strictly confidential. Medicines sent by express. Address,
